Reception at the First Regiment's Armory—Weather Worse Than Ever, But the Attendance Large. Brotherhood Chiefs Speak.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The weather for today, the last day of Chicago's Peace Jubilee, was even worse, if possible, than that of the preceding days. Rain fell freely, and a cold breeze blew constantly. Preceding the chief event, the railroad employes' reception, President McKinley spent the time quietly at the home of Capt. McWilliams, receiving only a few callers, and being engaged, principally, with Assistant Secretary Cortelyou. At 1:30 p.m. the President was driven to the First Regiment Armory, where, together with Mayor Harrison, he was received by a large gathering of railroad employes.

After the reception, the President addressed the railroad men, eliciting from them the warmest applause. The railroad reception at the armory was President McKinley's last public appearance in Chicago during the jubilee, wet weather having necessitated the postponement of the bicycle parade. The Presidential party will leave at 11 o'clock tonight on the Pennsylvania special train.

The mass meeting was in the nature of a formal opening of the three-days' conference of railway employes, called to draft measures for national and State legislation applying to organized labor. In the gathering were represented the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors and the Railway Telegraphers' Union. The ladies auxiliary in each of the orders assisted in the reception to the President.

A throng gathered outside the armory two hours before to cheer President McKinley on his arrival. The party was conducted to the first balcony, from which the President looked out upon the thousands of railway men. The galleries overhead were filled with men, women and children. The enthusiastic reception accorded the President upon his arrival at the armory was sufficient assurance that the railway men appreciated his presence.

The armory was crowded when the exercises were opened with prayer by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch. Chairman J. H. Walsh of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers presided, and delivered the opening address. He introduced Mayor Harrison, who delivered the address of welcome to President McKinley. The President's response was listened to attentively and frequently interrupted with applause. The President spoke as follows:

"I count myself fortunate to have the privilege of meeting with this great railway organization. I have had, in the last ten days, many most pleasing and interesting experiences, as I have journeyed through the country, but I assure you that not one of them has given me greater pleasure than to meet the women and men connected with the great railroads of the country. [Applause.]

"It is fortunate that this great body of representative men and women has assembled in this city at a time when the people were celebrating the suspension of hostilities, with early hope of an honorable, just and triumphant peace. The railroad men of the country have always been for the country. [Applause.] The railroad men of the country have always been for the flag of the country, and in every crisis of our national history, in war and in peace, the men of your great organization have been loyal and faithful to every duty and obligation.

"Yours is at once a profession of great risk, and of grave responsibility. I know of no occupation in the sphere of human endeavor which carries with it greater obligations or higher responsibilities than the profession of railroad men. You carry the commerce of the country; you carry the rich treasures of the country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and you carry daily and hourly the freightage of humanity; you trust to you, to your integrity, to your intelligence and your fidelity for the safe-guarding of their lives, and I congratulate the country from the bottom of my heart that in this great system, so interwoven with the everyday life of the citizens of the republic, we have such splendid character and such high intelligence.

"I bring to you today not only my good will, but I bring also to you the good will and respect of seventy millions of American citizens. Your work is before a critical audience; you go in and out every day before your countrymen, and you have ever deserved from your countrymen the unstinted praise and approval of your fidelity to the great interest you represent. The virtue of the people lies at the foundation of the republic; the power of the people is in the American freeds. The virtue that comes out of the altar of home is the most priceless gift this nation has, and when the voice of the people speaks from the homes of the people, it is a command to Congress and the Executive it is a law of the republic."

"I thank you, my fellow-citizens, for your cordial greeting, and I congratulate you on the evidences of returning prosperity everywhere. What you, what we all want, is business prosperity. When you have that you have something to do; when you have it not then you are idle. There are few 'empties' now on the side-track. [Laughter and applause.] And there are few railroad men not employed now. The more you see the freight car, the oftener you see the pay car.

"I am very glad to observe that the First Illinois Regiment is in your presence today. [Applause.] That gallant regiment, made up of the volunteers from the homes of Chicago, who took their lives into their own hands and went to Santiago to fight the battle of liberty against oppression, I am glad to have this opportunity to meet and greet, and to congratulate and thank them in the name of the American people.

"And now, having said this much, I hope you know that I will carry from this place, from this audience, from these warm-hearted men and women, the pleasantest memory of my long trip through the West."

At the conclusion of President McKinley's remarks the audience broke into wild cheers, which lasted fully five minutes.

Judge Barton Faine of Chicago was one of the chief speakers at the meeting. He said:

"Few events in the history of the country more fittingly illustrate the dignity of labor than this great meeting and the presence here of the President of the United States, Labor is the life of our people and the basis of every civilization and progress. There is no room under our system of government for a discussion of the so-called classes and the masses; here the son of the artisan, the farmer and the day laborer may in a single generation reasonably hold any of the great offices in the gift of our people, and may become one of the wealthy of the land. That this not only may happen, but has happened so often as to cease to be matter for comment we all know.

"Your organization has constantly refused to lend itself to the visionary aid of utopian schemes, which constantly appear and reappear and are forgotten. No man is a friend of labor when he is not willing on all occasions to tell the truth in the discussion of public questions. No part of our people are more interested in and dependent upon a stable and just government than the persons called laboring men. The rich and powerful can protect themselves, the poor need the protecting hand of stable institutions, and the demagogue should find no place."

Other speakers on the programme were George R. Peck, E. E. Clark of the Order of Railway Conductors, F. P. Sargent of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, P. H. Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and P. A. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

An informal reception for the railway men was held by the President after the addresses. The President was stationed in an enclosure on the first balcony above the entrance where the railway men filed singly. As they came up to the President, one by one, the extended hands were grasped by the President. The men were all admitted into the armory by ticket. The distinguished guests from Washington were present, and composed the group which surrounded the President on the balcony.

Espee Surveyors Sent to Salt Lake.

Move Toward Southern California Evidently Begun.

Apparently an Effort to Head Off Other Lines.

Full Locating Party Put in the Field With Greatest Secrecy. Hood's Chief Assistant Heads the Southern Pacific Brigade.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While the Santa Fe is laying plans for the extension of its system to San Francisco, and preparing to compete with the Southern Pacific in Northern California, as it is now doing in the southern part of the State, the Southern Pacific is not reposing in entire lethargy. It is planning to extend its system by the construction of a new line of railroad which, from the elaborate nature of the preparations that have been made and the secrecy and mystery that surrounds the whole proceeding, is believed to be a project of no mean dimensions. It is known that a large surveying party has been sent out on a mission that savors of much mystery. Nearly all the rest of it is left to conjecture.

The surveying party left here early in the present month in charge of Assistant Engineer L. H. Long, W. D. Gelette, who is Engineer Hood's chief assistant, was given general supervision. Since leaving here the party has been heard from at Salt Lake City, from which place one of the members has written to a friend in this city, announcing that the big surveying force was engaged on an important piece of work for the Southern Pacific, that would keep the party in the field fully nine months. The party in Long's charge is the full locating party of about twenty men.

These facts have become public in spite of precautions taken to keep the work of the surveying party secret. Every possible means has been employed to prevent the plans of the company from becoming public. Engineers Gelette and Long and the men under them were strictly enjoined from talking of the work, and they were particularly cautioned not to make public their destination. As an extra precaution, all marks of Southern Pacific ownership were removed from the instruments and boxes of the surveying party. It is said that few or none of the officials in the general office of the company are acquainted with the company's construction plans. Even H. E. Huntington and General Manager Kruttschnitt expressed entire ignorance of the matter when seen today, and said the last they heard of Gelette and Long was several weeks ago, when the two engineers were in Riverside. In Chief Engineer Hood's office, it was stated that they went away on a trip about the first of the month. No one could say where they had gone or when they would return.

It is said the surveying party has been set to work making the survey for a line from Salt Lake City to Southern California, and there seems to be some ground for believing this to be a fact. Just what may be the company's object in undertaking operations in that part of the country, however, is not made entirely clear. A prominent railroad man of this city, who is in touch with Southern Pacific affairs, said the survey now being made indicates a feeling of uncertainty in the Southern Pacific's mind respecting the future of the Central Pacific.

It has also been suggested that a line might be built by the Southern Pacific to head off the Santa Fe. It is known that that company, backed by the Oregon Short Line, has started to build an extension of the Oregon Short Line from Milford, Utah, to Floche, from which point it is expected the road will be extended without delay to a connection with the Santa Fe in Southern California. These are simply matters of conjecture, however. The officers of the Southern Pacific refuse to make public their plans, and time alone will tell the purpose of the Southern Pacific's activity in construction matters just now.

VALLEY ROAD GOBBLE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The Chronicle, in the morning, will say that Robert Watt, vice-president of the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley Railroads, admits that the placing of 18,000 or more shares of the company's stock in escrow virtually means that the Santa Fe Railroad is to be extended to this city. In an interview Watt said:

"The stock has been placed in escrow with the Union Trust Company, and an option given, all for the purpose of enabling the Santa Fe to get into San Francisco. The newspapers have made one slight error. The option on the stock now in the possession of the Union Trust Company has not been given to the Santa Fe, the option has been given in the interest of the Santa Fe, however, which amounts to practically the same thing. I do not care to say who holds the option."

Another important fact which has just come to light is that the proposed extension of the Valley Road from Bakersfield to the nearest point on the line of the Santa Fe will be abandoned, if negotiations which have been undertaken by the Santa Fe with the object of securing a trackage right over the tracks of the Southern Pacific between Bakersfield and Mojave result satisfactorily.

Referring to this matter, Vice-President Watt said: "A new line from Bakersfield to Mojave would parallel the Southern Pacific in a region where not a dollar's worth of traffic is to be had. A line over the Tehachapi Mountains simply serves the purpose of a bridge, and might be used by several companies to their mutual advantage, as is the bridge over the Missouri River at Omaha."

ON THEIR NECK

Dons Feel the Weight of America's Knee.

They Think She Should Let Up as to Cuba's Debt.

Their Smooth and Polished Talk Gets Written Answers.

Efforts to Make the Paris Proceedings Conversational Meet With Rigid Inflexibility—Spanish Commissioners Despair of Support.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
LONDON, Oct. 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Paris correspondent of the Times says:

"I had a visit today (Thursday) from a great Spanish personage, who seems to have been commissioned to ascertain the trend of public opinion on the negotiations here. He appeared much depressed. He has found general sympathy with Spain, but was unable to discover any possibility of obtaining moral support against the American delegates, who are inflexible in their demands, and with much politeness of form have hitherto categorically refused to make the slightest concessions on any of the instructions received by them, never having asked their government for the slightest modifications.

"I have already explained the mode of negotiations. Memoirs are handed in, which are translated and replied to in the same fashion. The Spaniards from time to time endeavor to enter in conversation and turn the discussion into a verbal explanation of the views, in order to obtain some deviation from the line marked out by the American government for its representatives. Señor Ariazola, who is a master of the English language, is the Spanish commissioner who makes the efforts to lead to a conversation, and he is described as very prepossessing and eloquent, and he always makes a profound impression. The Americans, however, listen attentively, but rigidly maintain the procedure of written replies.

"The intended sitting yesterday could not be held because the Spaniards, in view of the written replies made to them, renounced their attempts at conversation, and asked forty-eight hours' grace to consult their government and prepare a written rejoinder. The friend who called told me he had found his countrymen much discouraged, being convinced that the United States is bent on a rigorous exercise of the rights of the victor.

"I have heard you say," he remarked, 'that Prince Bismarck once said to you: "When you have your knee on the throat of a vanquished nation, you can take from it all you like, but you must always beware of abusing your victory and exaggerating your conquests. Otherwise, you had yourself for many generations with a crushing burden, which ends by having the most mischievous results for the victor—almost more than for the vanquished." My caller remarked: "The Americans are not adopting this wise and humane view. They seem bent on pushing results of the war to their extreme consequences. They refuse to entertain any concession on the Philippine question, and, while declining to take any sovereignty in Cuba, they maintain that the Cuban debt is a Spanish debt, and that Spain abused her sovereignty by saddling the island with the interest of a debt by which she alone profited.

"Vainly we have urged that they themselves accept financial obligations toward England after the war of independence; that they accept the burdens of Texas after the conquest; that there is no more general law than the law of obligations of a country changing its rulers, and that it would be an arbitrary course and a vexatious precedent to throw the Cuban debt upon us. It is useless, and they stand peremptorily on their demands.

"What our delegates should say to them, if they persist, as it is to be feared they will, is this: "We are in your hands. You are the victors. We for once committed the folly of going to war with you because you left us no time to avoid it; because you treated us in such a way that even at the risk of suicide we were bound to plunge into war, although the result of it was evident to us. But we will not commit the fresh folly of recommending war in any form. We are therefore at your mercy. We shall submit to your dictates and shall leave the whole world to judge of those dictates; but no human force will compel us to subscribe to them, and we shall not subscribe."

"That is what our delegates ought to say on this Cuban question. As for the other points, they will wait to hear what they are."

SPAIN'S DUMB SUFFERING.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
PARIS, Oct. 20.—The Spanish Peace Commissioners have not yet received from Madrid either instructions or permission to add to Cuban sovereignty, without further seeking to attach to this sovereignty something providing for the assumption of the Cuban debt by the United States, as at present proposed, should they fail to recognize affirmatively the United States' opinion, and will stop on the point of results, should they fail to recognize American insistence. The Spaniards, while recognizing the physical power of the United States against insubordinate Spain, will not extend their palms upward and shrug their shoulders. They regard the situation as pitiable, and are not averse to any sympathy. The American answer to their propositions is very long, and that they have not yet had time to meditate fully upon it. They thus far, apparently, intend not to yield, and will tomorrow make another written presentation and expect an extended discussion thereon.

Whether they will tomorrow be met with or at the close of the session receive as to Cuba, the American ultimatum of terms and time, must then be developed. While this is possible it is now not quite probable.

MYSTERIOUS SUICIDE.

UNKNOWN KILLS HIMSELF IN THE OMAHA PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Indications that He Secreted Himself in the Building With Intent to Rob the Priceless Byron Reed Collection of Coins—Evidently a Russian.

[A. T. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

OMAHA, Oct. 20.—An unknown man has committed suicide at the Public Library here under mysterious circumstances. Everything points to the fact that he had secreted himself in the building the night before with the intention of robbing the priceless collection of coins of the Byron Reed. When detected, he coolly placed a revolver to his temple and fired a bullet into his brain. When the watchman rushed upon the scene, the man was dead. The body appears to be that of a man of culture. There is nothing by which it might be identified.

He was evidently a Eurasian, and some slight indication on his clothes would seem to indicate that he was a nobleman. The police believe the man was a visitor at the exposition who possessed technical knowledge, and was, perhaps, a collector of rare coins himself. Recognizing the value of the treasure, he sought to rob him only by a glass case, they think he determined to seize it, and for that purpose visited the library in the evening and secretly hid himself in the watchman's room. Early in the morning, the watchman noticed the burglar alarms leading to the Reed collection ringing violently. An alarm was given, and then the suicide's weapon exploded and the man fell dead in the hall in front of the watchman.

The door leading to the Reed collection had been open for some time. This is the fourth time burglars have attempted to rob this collection. The thousands of gold coins of all nations included, represent a large fortune, to say nothing of the value of the coins as rare specimens and complete sets of the species of all nations.

The coroner is investigating the case. The suicide was a large, fine-looking man. He was not seen around the building previously, and the police can learn nothing of his name. He was about 45 years old, and there was nothing in his pockets to identify him. The name, John Schmidt, was written on the margin of a small map of Europe found in his pocket. The map was torn from a geography. A pair of sun glasses, the case of which bore the label "Riga, Russia," was also found.

On the corner of a pocket handkerchief, in red silk were embroidered the letters "J. K. Schmidt," and had not been in this country long. From the style of his wearing apparel and his general appearance, he was above the ordinary station of life.

ISLANDS IN ANARCHY

TERRIBLE STATE OF AFFAIRS IN SOUTHERN PHILIPPINES.

Reports Reaching Manila Appear to Differ From What American Army Officers Report.

REBEL VESSELS ARE CAPTURED.

AMERICANS HAVE SEIZED TWO SO FAR THIS WEEK.

Shafter's Civil Governor of Santiago Gets His Pay—The Texas to Go to Manila—Dewey Cut no Cable.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANILA, Oct. 20.—[By Asia Cable.] The United States cruiser Boston and the collier Nero, which, October 5, were ordered to proceed to Hongkong in connection with the recent disturbances at and near Peking, have arrived at Amoy, on the island of that name, in the province of Fo Kien, opposite Formosa, the latter with her cargo afloat.

Reports have reached here of a terrible state of anarchy in the southern Philippines.

The Spaniards there are cooped up in the principal towns.

The Americans continue capturing the rebel vessels as they arrive at Cavite. Two have been captured this week.

SPANISH COOPED UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HONGKONG, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Consul-General Wildman's advice says dispatches sent to Madrid from Hilo by Gen. Rios, that he has put down the rebellion in the Vizcaya, as an absolute falsehood. The Spanish troops are entrenched at Hilo in momentary fear of capture. All the country outside of the forts is in the hands of insurgents. The Spanish troops are practicing barbarous cruelty on the Filipinos.

NEW DEAL.

Aguinaldo's Influence Waning.

Situation is Peaceful.

[A. T. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says that Maj. Gen. Otis has cabled to the War Department a review of the situation in the Philippines, showing that Aguinaldo's influence is on the wane. Gen. Otis stated that Aguinaldo's forces are being rapidly depleted. Many of the deserters are joining the Spanish party apparently of the belief in the possibility that the islands may be returned to Spain.

The situation is peaceful, and there is little danger of trouble between the natives and Americans, and Gen. Otis expresses confidence in his ability to fully cope with any developments. Secretary Alger sent a copy of the dispatch to the State Department, and it is expected that it will be cabled to the American consuls at Manila.

Adj. Gen. Simpkins, who has just returned to Washington, brought with him from Manila, all of the correspondence which had passed between Rear-Admiral Dewey and Maj. Gen. Merritt and Aguinaldo. This correspondence shows conclusively that the American officers entered into no alliance, implied or direct, with Aguinaldo, and that the hands of the government are tied in no way as a result of the cooperation with the insurgents. Some of the more important passages of the correspondence have been cabled to Manila and complete copies were forwarded to the commissioners by mail today.

TEXAS AND BERLIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The battleship Texas passed out Sandy Hook at 8:20 o'clock a.m., for Philadelphia. She is to take part in the Peace Jubilee, and then go into drydock to prepare for her long voyage to Manila. It is expected she will be ready in about six weeks. The transport Berlin also sailed this morning, bound for Santiago and Central Traffic line, with quartermaster's stores, etc.

GETS HIS PAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Oct. 20.—Señor Leonardo Rios, whom Gen. Shafter appointed civil governor of Santiago, immediately after the capitulation, and whose claim of payment for services rendered from the date that capacity has been objected to by the military authorities on the ground that he did nothing, was paid $475, the general holding that Rios had been formally appointed, and was consequently entitled to pay until relieved.

MANILA AFFAIRS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

Situation Improved, but the Sick Report Increases.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The War Department today posted the following bulletin:

"Under date of yesterday, Gen. Otis cabled the War Department:

"The situation in Luzon somewhat improved. Influence of Filipinos of education and property not desiring independent government, but hostile to Spain, gaining ascendancy in revolutionary councils. Promising nothing, but enforcing the law. Complications seriously affect inter-island commerce and diminish revenue.

"In the Philippines, progress is favorable, though sick report increasing, owing mostly to carelessness of enlisted men. Health of officers good. Condition of city and facilities for quartering troops improving. Fever decreasing. Intestinal troubles about the same. Many slight ailments. Smallpox apparently arrested. During the month 28 deaths, 8 smallpox, 8 typhoid fever, 5 malarial and intestinal complaints, 3 accidental.

Gen. Otis cabled considerably more than the above, but the department does not deem it advisable to make the other portions of the dispatch public because of the sensitive nature of peace negotiations. It contains suggestions by Gen. Otis regarding the disposition of the Philippines and also information about the insurgents.

THAT ALLEGED BATTLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The sensational Spanish report of a naval battle between Admiral Dewey's vessels and the insurgent navy in the Philippines is received with absolute incredulity in both the United States and the Philippines. If there has been any recent action, Admiral Dewey has failed to mention it, and neither Gen. Otis nor United States dispatches have regarded it as worthy of notice.

It is believed at the Navy Department that the Spanish authorities refer to the seizure of the steamer Abay by the McCulloch, September 23, last. The steamer was of American register, though formerly known as the Pasig. It was reported to Admiral Dewey that she was bringing arms and supplies of war to the insurgents. He sent the McCulloch to stop this movement, but when the cutter found the steamer in Batangas Bay, the vessel had landed her cargo of arms and the insurgents refused to give them up. Thereupon the McCulloch fired a shot at the steamer, and the latter was sunk. The explanation of the admiral's interference with these vessels in their operations is a desire on his part to maintain the status quo in the Philippines pending the conclusion of the Peace Commission's work in Paris.

It is said here that it is not surprising that the Spanish authorities should make much of this incident, that can be twisted into a demonstration of actual hostilities between the American forces in the Philippines and the insurgents, which has been going on since the capture of Manila. The explanation of the admiral's interference with these vessels in their operations is a desire on his part to maintain the status quo in the Philippines pending the conclusion of the Peace Commission's work in Paris.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—A special to the Republic from Houston, Tex., says the electric and wind storm which swept over Texas last night was very severe in Southern Texas. Damage to cotton is enormous. At Deer Park, twenty miles from Houston, the residence of G. F. Adams was demolished. S. A. J. Cook was crushed to death and several others were injured. The wind was so high at Missouri City, thirty-five miles east, that it blew a number of freight cars from the siding out on the main track. The California express dashed into the cars at full speed. The engine turned over, instantly killing George Johnson, San Antonio, the engineer, and scalding the fireman and injuring the head brakeman. None of the passengers were badly hurt.

left for Washington tonight. The crowd that has followed him every time he has appeared in public was with him to the last, and it required the efforts of 150 policemen to restrain the throng which packed the depot to suffocation. Just as the train pulled out the President appeared on the platform of the last car and bowed repeatedly as the crowd cheered for him.

The President spent much of the day in resting and receiving friends of the family. There were more than the usual number of callers. The banquet at the Auditorium the night previous was not permitted to disturb the habit of early rising, which he has so closely adhered to for years. At 8 o'clock he had breakfast, and then kept open house for Capt. McWilliam's staff and friends until luncheon hour.

Mrs. McKinley has patronized the bazaar given by the women of the Holy Angel Catholic Church by sending a donation for the movement. The ladies in charge of the bazaar, wishing to show their appreciation of the act, this morning sent a delegation to Mrs. McKinley, presenting her with a beautiful Sevres vase. The ladies were presented to the President and Mrs. McKinley by Mrs. William McKinley.

After luncheon President McKinley proceeded to the First Regiment Armory shortly after 1 o'clock. From the Armory he went to the Auditorium to meet a number of friends. While there he was presented with a memorial in honor of international arbitration by the Chicago Committee on Arbitration, and after listening to the reading of the memorial he said: "I am, indeed, very glad to meet this delegation, and I have informed the Czar of Russia that the United States will be represented in the proposed congress of peace. I am sure it might not be inappropriate when we form our commission, to constitute it generously from Chicago gentlemen, who are so thoroughly interested in the subject, which it will deal, but we will take that up later. I don't want it to take any of you by surprise."

During the remainder of the day he rested at the McWilliams residence until it was time for his train. During the Washington trip the President will make stops at Logansport, Ind., Indianapolis, Columbus and Pittsburgh.

Van Wyck and Conway, nominees for Governor and Attorney-General, respectively.

Upon this showing, Chairman Keach advises that bimaculato Democratic vote for the regular candidates on the State ticket, except Conway, who, he says, should be scratched.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Andrew Carnegie, just back from Europe, said, in an interview today:

"If the United States is going to undertake the government of the Philippines and go in for expansion throughout the world, putting her hand in the home's nest of European rivalry, there can be no prosperous business. We shall be subject to wars and war alarms. Business is the child of security and peace. The entrance of the United States as a new power in the Far East will set every one of the powers to study of the question from a new standpoint. We shall be compelled to increase our navy, we must pay for a large standing army, and there is neither rest nor security."

THE PLOT THAT FAILED.

SPANISH-AMERICAN REPUBLIC WAS TO BE PROCLAIMED.

Blanco Had a Nice Little Scheme All Cooked Up to Run Cuba Himself, Pando Went to Work Up Mexico, Spain's Suit for Peace Wrecked the Game.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A private letter from Havana shows that Capt. Gen. Blanco, Gen. Pando and other prominent Spaniards had at the time of the surrender of Santiago, an organized plot to proclaim a Spanish-American republic in Cuba. The preliminary steps had all been taken, and had the plot succeeded, the United States might have had another war on hand. Blanco was, from the first, strongly in favor of prolonging the war against the United States and the Cuban insurgents, and had declared his intention of taking the field himself at the head of the Spanish army and meeting the American forces in open battle, contesting yard by yard the territory of Cuba with the invaders.

The plan was that Blanco should proclaim a revolution in Havana against the sovereignty of Spain, and declare a Spanish-American republic, with himself at the head of the government. All the various leaders of the civil government, and the commanders of the volunteers and the Spanish army were to concur in the movement, sever their allegiance to Spain, and turn over their commands to Blanco under the new government. The movement was to be entirely free and independent of the insurgents, who were to be recognized to any extent, but only the strictly Spanish element was to be regarded. The plotters went so far as to arrange for sending out envoys to all the Spanish-American countries to secure their cooperation and aid, and their recognition of the new republic as soon as it was declared by Blanco. Gen. Pando was secretly sent to Mexico to work the propaganda there. Up to the time of his return to Batatabano it was believed the scheme was successful. Other secret agents in other quarters were confirming the work. Even after the Spanish defeats, Blanco endeavored to push the work forward, acting against the overtures, with a desire to have the war continued.

There is a question as to whether the plot was devised in Madrid with the consent of Sagasta and the government, or whether it was purely an act of treachery on the part of Blanco and his supporters. The fact that Spain began the suit for peace after the fall at Santiago, and that Blanco's plan was thereby prevented from being carried into execution, leads those who have discovered the plot to believe that Blanco and the leaders of the Spanish army who wanted to prolong the fight for their own individual benefit, had acted independently. It is also thought that Blanco's intention ultimately, if he could succeed in establishing his Spanish-American republic, was to turn it over to Spain, either by purchase or

TWENTY MILES OF WRECKS.

THOUSANDS OF REFUGEES FLOCKING TO THE CITIES.

American Bark Comet Abandoned. Disaster on a Torpedo Boat—Dr. Orpen Acquitted—The Patriarch's Parade.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VANCOUVER (B.C.), Oct. 20.—Disastrous typhoons, sandstorms and floods have caused a fearful loss of life and property in the Orient. In the district watered by the River Feng in Japan, hundreds of villages have been swept away and 2000 people have been drowned. Another report says 250 refugees are under water. Thousands of refugees are flocking to the cities. The Ishikari River has also overflowed, drowning over one thousand people. Seven prefectures were destroyed.

In a terrible typhoon off Formosa happening the same time as the floods, great damage to shipping was done. At Tientsin eight junks were wrecked and a hundred lives lost. Twelve junks were driven to sea and lost. The steamer Renshi Maru was piled upon shore. Among the ships wrecked was the American bark Comet. The ship was abandoned and crew saved. The French steamer Hollow is wrecked on the beach near Amoy. The German steamer Trinidad, formerly of the Cunard Line, was abandoned in the open sea. Homeward-bound passengers state they passed through twenty miles of abandoned wrecks, chiefly Chinese junks. The loss of life must have been enormous.

FATAL TRIAL TRIP.

Boiler Explosion on the Davis Causes Seven Deaths.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ASTORIA (Or.), Oct. 20.—During the trial trip of the boiler of the Davis today an explosion occurred in one of her boilers. The men in the boiler-room were scalded, three dying from their injuries.

The dead are:

CHARLES O'NEILL, fireman.

PAUL LUTHE, coal-passer.

HARRY WOODS, fireman.

The injured are:

W. WOODS, superintendent of the boiler-room.

J. RYAN, fireman.

A. JOHNSON, fireman.

A. BUEHLE, fireman.

The accident occurred in the Columbia River, about twenty miles above this city, while the boat was on her trial trip. The nature of the explosion has not yet been made known, as an examination of the boiler will be required to determine exactly what portion of the boiler burst. One of the men on the Davis said: "It is impossible to say whether the tubes in the boiler or a steam pipe burst. All we know is that an explosion occurred. The boiler-room was filled with boiling water and steam, and the men in the room were scalded to death."

The Davis was being run by a river steamer, and the injured men taken to St. Mary's Hospital. The Davis carried forty-one men, all told. She was one of the two tug boats recently built by Wolff & Zwicker at Portland, and was soon to have gone into commission.

At the time of the accident, the boat was in charge of the official trial board. The officers declined to make any statement as to the cause of the accident. The trial board, however, is of the opinion that some of the tubes in the forward boiler exploded, owing to a derangement of the automatic water-raising, which permitted the water to get too low. Excepting for the havoc naturally wrought in the fire-room, the boat is uninjured, the hull and engine being in perfect order.

Late tonight the four injured died, making the total dead seven.

Welcomed With Howls, Whistles and Giant Powder.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.), Oct. 20.—Col. Alexander O. Brodie, of Col. Roosevelt's Rough Riders, returned to his home here this afternoon. The reception given him was a demonstration equal to that given on the departure of Arizona's battalion under his command May 4 for the war. An immense throng at the depot was accompanied by a brass band, while every whistle in town was blown amidst the firing of giant powder on the plaza. The procession formed and marched to the Courthouse Plaza, while the citizens, who lined the sidewalk along the route of march, cheered wildly for the returned hero.

Col. Brodie spoke briefly on the public plaza, and tonight a public meeting is being held in honor of Col. Brodie, who is a candidate for Delegate to Congress. The meeting is in the opera house, the largest hall in Prescott, and it was filled long before 8 o'clock. No such ovation was ever witnessed here before.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, Oct. 20.—A Post-Intelligencer special from Juneau says:

"Opposed to the stories of many returning disappointed prospectors from Copper River, Alaska, that there is no gold in that section, is that of L. Jaffe, Mayor of Valdez, who says important discoveries have been made on the Tasluna and Lineira rivers. He also claims that Capt. Abercrombie's surveying party has located the old Russian trail leading from Valdez to Copper Center. The trail was established over fifty years ago, but has been lost for several years. The trail avoids the Valdez glacier. A military post and reservation has been established at Valdez, with Capt. Abercrombie in command."

Most Life Insurance Companies in Japan in Difficulties.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

Iowa played without avail throughout the first half and part of the last half. Then, on Stanford's twenty-five-yard line, came the play which made Coach Cross, and in fact, all the players, exult those from Iowa, look troubled. The ball was snapped back to Gaines, who held it to the ground, while Palmer kicked for goal, thus making a place kick for goal from field. The goal was missed. No whistle was blown, and Palmer, rushing across the line, picked up the ball and touched it down behind Stanford's goal line, claiming the touchdown.

Iowa kicked a goal, and no other score was made during the game. This is the first football contest that Stanford has lost on the campus since 1892.

MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY.

MAN HELD UP AND ROBBED IN A MAIN STREET SALOON.

Reported Knock-down and Drag-out of the Victim—The Proprietor Denies Sensational Rumors—Police are Reticent About the Affair.

News of a robbery in a saloon, Tuesday night, which was carefully suppressed by the police censors, leaked out yesterday.

According to some of the stories abroad there was a regular knock-down and drag-out of the victim of the robbery, and the sleuths were scenting large bags of blood which, however, failed to lead to the capture of the robbers.

All reports agree that a robbery really did take place in the Washington saloon on North Main street, opposite the Plaza, but accounts differ as to the manner in which it was done and the amount of the booty.

One version of the affair is that three men entered the saloon, gave the proprietor a regular knock-down and drag-out at the rear of the bar. Chairs were overturned in the struggle, the victim was cut and bruised about the head till he bled profusely and became unconscious. He was then dragged out to the back yard and robbed of a sum stated variously at from $34 to $39. When the victim recovered his senses he crawled back to the saloon, covered with blood, and informed the proprietor what had happened. The proprietor rushed out across the street, where the man was standing and grabbed him, at the same time exclaiming: "Something has happened to my place and you are the man who has done it!" The man saw his mistake and rushed off after another man running northward toward the Plaza church, but the fugitive escaped.

Meantime several night watchmen and policemen arrived on the scene and took an inventory of the splashes of blood and other evidences of the conflict and interviewed the victim of the robbery and the proprietor of the saloon. The man who was robbed was drunk and had a wound in the forehead. A policeman eventually led him to a place of safety. His name, if ascertained by the officers, has not been divulged.

That is the story of the robbery, as told on the streets. E. Castellano, the proprietor of the saloon, gives a much milder version. He says three men passed through the saloon Tuesday night while he was busy behind the bar. The three entered the restaurant at the rear of the bar and passed from that into an alleyway at the side of the building. Presently he heard a noise that sounded like a scuffle, and one man, giving stifled screams, ran to the rear to investigate, and as he entered the restaurant two men ran out through the saloon and made a nuisance of themselves. He was very drunk, and said he had been robbed of only about $15.

One had already escaped across the street; the other was legging it past the old Mission Church. He started in pursuit, but an electric car got between him and the fugitive, who was lost to sight. Castellano returned to the saloon and then the police came and investigated. The victim of the robbery had a scratch on the forehead, which bled a little, but there was no blood on the floor or furniture, nor was any of the furniture upset or disarranged. Castellano says he did not have bloody hands himself as one rumor stated. A policeman took the man who was robbed away, but about 11 o'clock the fellow returned to the saloon and made a nuisance of himself. He was very drunk, and said he had been robbed of only about $15.

To Help the Needy.
The social and relief department of the Salvation Army is again at work at No. 759 Upper Main street, under the management of Capt. F. Braun, who has just arrived from Salt Lake, Utah, where for a long time he carried on this branch of the army work. On account of the number of applications for relief during the past week, he has been unable to fully supply their needs, and he has appealed to the public for donations of fuel, old clothes, old furniture, money, provisions etc.

Beach Business Growing.
Figures taken from the official records show that the postoffice business at the summer resorts has been greater during the past season than during the season of 1897. The gross receipts for the quarter ending September 30 in each of the two years are as follows: Santa Monica, 1897, $160,000; 1898, $160,500. Long Beach, 1897, $122,911; 1898, $124,000. Avalon, Catalina Island, 1897, $855.59; 1898, $855.61.

SESSION of the Grand Lodge held last week in San Francisco was one of unusual interest. The attendance of delegates from all parts of the State was large. The change in method of reporting members in vogue last year, allowing only those to be reported in good standing who had paid dues up to date of report, cut down the apparent membership, while a report based upon the old method would have shown a decided improvement.

The Relief Board now has but one member of the order under its care. Court Olive, No. 39, will have several initiations next Monday evening, and will at the same time have a reception to the local members of the order who were volunteers in the Seventh Regiment, about twenty in number.

THE new reserve plan adopted at the recent session of the Head Camp, will go into effect January 1.

Capt. "Buckey" O'Neil of the Rough Riders was the only member of the order killed in the late war, although there were 300 members in the service. The ten largest camps in the State have an aggregate membership of 2520.

La Fleeta Camp, No. 63, initiated four candidates Monday evening, and received two new applications. A "smoker" was indulged in under "good of the order." The team of La Fleeta Camp also conferred the amplified degree upon two candidates for Liberty Camp, Wednesday evening.

Los Angeles Camp, No. 402, reports one initiation and two applications during the past week. Arrangements are being made for an entertainment next Thursday evening.

Events in Society.

[The society columns of the Illustrated Magazine Section of the Sunday Times are closed at 6 p.m. on Saturday.]

Mrs. Freeman R. Cady of No. 344 North Fickett street gave a charming luncheon yesterday afternoon to a few friends. The dining-room was artistically decorated with chrysanthemums, roses and asparagus ferns, the color scheme being pink and green. Hicks catered. The guests included Mrs. Banning, Andrew Glassell, J. M. Griffin, John McLaughlin, George H. S. P. Thorpe, F. A. Glazier, Dr. Lulu Ellis, Dr. Elizabeth Follansbee, Miss Ellis. Mrs. Cady was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. Ganser.

The home on Gen. and Mrs. Charles Forman on West Pico street was thronged with a brilliant gathering yesterday afternoon. The occasion was the garden party given by the Ladies of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul for the benefit of the sick and poor of St. Vincent parish. The large grounds are fragrant with bloom and present an unusually attractive appearance. Rows of red and white cosmos outline the edges of the driveway. The tennis court, in the rear of the house, was inclosed with canvas and converted into a pavilion. Here small tables were arranged, and refreshments served by Reynolds throughout the afternoon. The interior had been draped with immense American flags. A large crayon portrait of Father Meyer, who was the founder of the society, occupied a conspicuous place to the right of the entrance. In the other corner of the pavilion Arent's Orchestra rendered some excellent music. Mrs. James C. Keys, president of the society, received the guests at the door and the Reception Committee included Mrs. Edward Ryan, J. F. Conroy, C. M. White, J. A. Fortman, W. R. Bourke, Mary Schaller, J. N. Vinton, E. de Quilley, A. W. Denison, I. L. Blinn, Randolph Miner, M. W. Longstreet, J. C. Drake, John Alton, Henry Worthington, A. M. Scott, J. E. Farrell, L. T. Rhodes, Misses Forman, Georgia Buist.

The Young Women's Christian Association gave a chrysanthemum social last evening in their rooms on West Second street. Large, feathery chrysanthemums, vines and smilax were used in the decorations of the rooms, and the hall and stairway were lighted with Japanese lanterns. Refreshments were served, followed by a musical programme, consisting of banjo, guitar and piano solos and duets. Mrs. H. W. Brodbeck, A. T. Stewart, Frank Dewey, W. C. Patterson, A. E. Raze, Misses Clara Boshysell, Minnie North, Gertrude Hatch, Clara Ferris and Clara P. Hull assisted in receiving and entertaining. These socials will be given frequently during the winter months for the purpose of promoting sociability among the members.

Wright Coulter celebrated his twelfth birthday anniversary yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Coulter, No. 1015 Figueroa street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Welsenberger of No. 322 West Eleventh street entertained a few friends informally yesterday evening in celebration of their first wedding anniversary. Pink carnations, La France roses and ferns were used profusely about the rooms, which presented an attractive appearance. The long table, from which dinner was served, under the direction of Christopher & Sparks, was fragrant with carnations, arranged with butterfly bows of pink satin ribbon. The tall candelabra in the center of the table was softly shaded with pink. A musical and literary programme was rendered, among the participants being: Mr. and Mrs. H. Sullivan, Mrs. J. B. Solomon, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, William Bryant, Edward Lewis and Riffa Kinney. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Solomon, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Mrs. Darby, sister of the bride, will receive next Tuesday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Galer.

The Ruskin Art Club met Wednesday morning, and an interesting paper on the Greek and Roman styles of architecture and temple-building was read by Mrs. A. C. Hubbell. The paper described some of the most famous temples of the world, including the temple of Apollo at Pompeii, the Pantheon at Rome, and other similar structures. The papers were discussed by Dr. Fletcher, who illustrated his remarks with a number of valuable pictures.

Invitations have been issued by the Highland Golf Club to its members for a house-furnishing party, to be held Friday evening, October 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Neal on South Flower street.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.
Mrs. George Rogers of Riverside is the guest of Mrs. St. L. Graham of South Flower street.

ACCIDENTAL BURNING.
The Dead Woman's Companion Has Not Been Discovered.

An inquest was held yesterday at Orr & Hines' on the remains of the woman generally known as Mrs. Williams, who was burned to death Wednesday night in her grocery store, corner of East First and Dakota streets, Boyle Heights.

The inquest developed the fact that her true name was Mrs. Alice O'Connor, aged 42 years, and a native of New York. The jury decided that she died accidentally burned to death. The landlady of the Russ House, corner First and Los Angeles streets, said that Mrs. O'Connor came to her place about 10 o'clock Wednesday forenoon in a beastly state of intoxication, and insisted on going from room to room, but that she ordered her out, threatening to call the patrol wagon. The woman then left.

The man, Dexter, who, it was thought, might have been the woman's companion on the night of the fire, was found late yesterday afternoon and examined by the coroner. He denied having been with the woman Wednesday night, and stated that he had not seen her since 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, when he met her at the corner of First and Los Angeles streets. He was going to work with his team. He said the woman asked him to get her a drink. The landlady of the Russ House inclined to the opinion that the woman set the bed clothes on fire through smoking a cigarette after retiring, but that is hardly probable, as the smoke and flames were first seen issuing from the roof of the kitchen, which was in the rear of the sleeping-room and separated by a partition.

Mrs. O'Connor at times claimed to be a relative of John L. Sullivan, some say a niece, and others say a sister. She has served time in San Quentin for complicity in a murder near, or at San Francisco, where she and O'Connor formerly conducted a saloon. She was released about five years ago, having served two years. It is said O'Connor is still serving time for his connection with the affair.
It is claimed the woman had about $8000 in bank, $5000 being in San Francisco and the balance here. Public Administrator Kelsey has taken charge of the remains, and will investigate her affairs. Meanwhile, an effort is being made to ascertain the identity of her mysterious companion on the night of her death.

HUMAN PYRAMID.
Significant Incident at the Regiment Sports at Halifax.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Halifax says the regiment sports of the Royal Canadian battalion of Imperial troops were marked by an unusual incident. At the conclusion of the sports 100 men, the pick of the garrison, formed a pyramid by mounting upon one another's shoulders, and the man at the apex, a fine specimen of the British soldier, stood waving in one hand the Union Jack and in the other the Stars and Stripes.

This feat was cheered by the large number of spectators present. It was the first time in the history of Halifax that men of a British regiment had displayed the flag of another nation.

LAUGHING NELLIE.
Why Outcasts Like Her Cannot Afford to Cry.

[Annie Laurie in the San Francisco Examiner.] Laughing Nellie is dead. She died in the Police Station the other night.
Once, when I was doing the Police Stations, I saw Laughing Nellie. She was a little, round-faced creature, who had once been not unpleasant to see.

She was about 30 years old, and she had a name somewhere, but she never let any one know what it was.
"Name?" she said when I spoke to her. "Name? Why, Laughing Nellie. Everybody knows Laughing Nellie. That name's good enough for me."

"I used to be crying Nellie once," "When?"
"I was happy once, and I used to love to cry."

"I never missed a theater where there was something sad to see."
"I used to love to go to hear a band play, so I could snuffle over the mournful parts of the music."
"I couldn't go to a wedding but what the tears would come to my eyes. I was kind of funny, like that."

"You see, I could afford to cry then. Happy women can always afford to cry."
"But when you're getting along past the twenty-fives, when the people that used to like you don't see you when you go by on the street; when the baby you loved to snuggle up close to your neck is dead, and there's nobody cares how you've got to laugh then."

"Have you ever noticed women like me?"
"Women that come down here to the station-house?"
"No?"

"Well, I have, and they are always great ones for laughing."
"They have to be."
"They can't afford to think."
"Sometimes one of 'em tries—and first news you know you hear she's dead. Killed herself—and then all the women who knew her laugh to think what a fool she was to do it. And they keep on laughing so's not to think too much about the way she did it—carbolic acid, or drowning, or a pistol—or it will haunt 'em and they'll have to follow along too."

"Same as being alone."
"We never like to be alone, me and the other women who laugh."
"First time I noticed that, I'd been having a good deal of trouble. I'd tried to do right and keep honest, and I just couldn't seem to live like that—and I went and gave it all up, the living and the one day everybody was gone but me, and I was going to a dance down at Coney and I sat in front of me out of the room screaming, and I had good hair then; I hadn't touched it up yet—and say, what you want to, the blonde does kill your hair—and all at once I saw somebody looking at me in the glass."

"Somebody that was watching me and grinning at me and hating me and wondering when I would have sense enough to see; and whoever it was was looking right out of my own eyes; and—no, I ain't dotty; lots of them will tell you the same thing. And I ran out of the room screaming, and I've never looked in the glass when I'm alone since. 'Fraid I'll see that 'watching—that's one of the things that keeps me laughing."

"Home—friends!"
"Me—why, I'm Laughing Nellie."
"I haven't a friend in the world."
"You got no story. Yes, I've been to school. Yes, my folks were all right. Yes, I can talk strong enough if I want to. I ran away and married a man my folks all warned me against, and he turned out just what they said he would, and my baby died—and what's the use talking about it? There's nothing in it. We all have beautiful fakes we tell folks that ask our histories—missionaries and people that haven't got any histories of their own. But there's nothing romantic in my life. Nothing but a fool girl that knew more than all her folks, and she wouldn't look 'All for Love, and 'The World Against Her,'—and I'm paying for my nice novel-reading now."

"Happy women?"
"Are there any?"
"Where?"
"I'd like to see one."
"When a woman's got a good home and folks that love her, and a baby, and plants and things, she thinks there's nothing in that, and she reads weepy books, and tells hardluck stories, and goes to funerals and frets and worries about every little thing."
"Tain't right. This world ain't."

"You begin wrong."
"Now, look at me. If I could 'a been this way—laughin' and makin' myself think I wasn't whinin' I was dead every single minute."
"If I could 'a begun hungry and cold and ragged and in the street, and nobody care whether I live or die—then when the home and the friends, and the baby and the plants came along—my folks would look 'All for Love, and 'The World Against Her,'—and I'm paying for my nice novel-reading now."

MISSIONARY BISHOPS.

A SAN FRANCISCO PREACHER ONE OF FOUR SELECTED.
The Episcopal House of Deputies Frames a Letter to the Carr. Rev. Taylor of Los Angeles Advocates the Pro-British Resolution, Which is Adopted.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The House of Bishops of the Episcopal general convention today selected the following missionary bishops: For Boise, Idaho, Rev. J. B. Funston, Cal. Portland, Va.; for Sacramento, Cal. Rev. W. H. Moreland of San Francisco; North Dakota, Rev. S. D. Edsall of Chicago; for presiding bishop of Brazil, Rev. L. L. Kinsolving, Virginia.

QUESTIONS OF PEACE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—At the meeting of the house of deputies of the Episcopal convention today the following letter to the Czar of Russia was agreed upon:
"To His Majesty, the Czar of Russia: The general conference of the Protestant Episcopal Church, composed of bishops, clergymen and laymen, hails with joy the great peace manifesto which your Majesty has issued. We earnestly hope that the conference may result in a reduction of the excessive armaments, which are a burden on the people, and the establishment of some method of judicial arbitration for the settlement of international difficulties, by which may be preserved the principles of equity and right, whereon rest the security of states and the welfare of peoples."

"Your Majesty's appeal to international discussion will stimulate the consciences of civilized nations, and the inauguration of this noble movement may well be considered a happy presage for the century, which is about to open and mark an epoch in the progress of the world. We earnestly invoke upon it the blessing of Almighty God, and pray that it may help greatly to hasten the coming of the kingdom of the Prince of Peace on earth."

The letter was agreed to by 270 to 41. A further resolution favored instructions to the United States commissioners to the Czar of Russia, and the establishment of a permanent international court for the settlement of disputes which may arise between nations. There were objections to this plan, and it was tabled.

Rev. B. W. R. Taylor of Los Angeles said that, in view of the action relative to the Czar of Russia, he was deeply proper that the house adopt the pending resolution expressing thanks to Great Britain for the sympathy toward the United States during the recent war with Spain. It was particularly appropriate on this occasion, he said, while an eminent English churchman, the Dean of Hereford, was present. Mr. Taylor referred to the satisfaction expressed by President McKinley at the course of Great Britain during the recent war period.

After some spirited controversy, the resolution was then adopted. It was as follows:
"Resolved, that this general conference of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States places on record its sense of deep gratification at the many manifestations of friendly feeling to our nation which have been so freely and cordially shown by the government and empire of Great Britain in the late war with Spain, and expresses the sincere hope that the time may speedily arrive when these two great nations of the Anglo-Saxon family, the United States of America and the British empire, shall stand together in defense of the rights and liberties of mankind, and for the promotion of Christian civilization among the nations of the earth."

DEAN OF HEREFORD.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—On the invitation of the presiding officer, the Dean of Hereford addressed the convention and expressed his hearty thanks, as an Englishman, and for his country, for the cordial resolution adopted. He rejoiced at the friendly feeling between the two great nations. It tended to no warlike alliance, he said, but to that natural union between those of common tongue and the nation. Instead of making war, the alliance of the two nations would do more for peace, the dean said, than any other movement of nations.

October 25 was fixed for final adjournment.

SHORTAGE OF APPLES.
Europe and Especially Germany May Import American Fruit.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Germany is said to have an apple crop smaller in quantity and poorer in quality than has been gathered in recent years, according to United States Consul-General Frank Mason at Frankfurt. Cider apples this year command three times the usual price, he says, and no cider will be made outside of Wurtemberg. Even cooking apples of an inferior grade are selling in Frankfurt at 8 to 9 cents a pound.

This deficiency is said to extend more or less generally to France, Bohemia and Northern Italy, so the conditions favor a large importation of American apples, though whether this will be practicable or not will depend upon, first, the supply in the United States, and second, the spirit in which the German officials enforce the inspection laws. Mr. Mason believes, in view of the uncertainty of the trade, that future development will be in the direction of dried and preserved fruit.

INTO THE ELEVATOR.
Car-ferry Bored a Big Hole in a New Building.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
MILWAUKEE (Wis.), Oct. 20.—The car-ferry Shenango No. 2 of the Chicago and West Michigan Railway Company, bound from Muskegon to Milwaukee, ran into the American Maltine Company's new elevator today, shortly after entering the river, on her way to her dock. The car-ferry was loaded with twenty-six cars, filled with freight.

The accident was caused through a misunderstanding on the part of the engineer of the signal given him. Instead of backing up when near the elevator, he forced the steamer ahead, crashing into the elevator, which was displaced fifteen feet from the foundations. A great hole was stove in the eastern side of the building. The capacity of the elevator is 400,000 bushels. The elevator is now standing in such a position that it is liable to topple over at any moment, especially should a strong wind spring up.

Wallace Circus Coming.
The great Wallace show, a three-ring circus and museum, will exhibit in this city Monday and Tuesday of next week. It is said to be particularly well supplied with fine horses and experienced riders. A menagerie and a Roman hippodrome are among the main attractions of the show.

Death of Col. Harman.
JACKSON (Miss.), Oct. 20.—Col. Milford Harman, a prominent business man of this city, and uncle of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, is dead.

THE PRESIDENT'S PRESENCE.

Its Effect on the Los Angeles Exhibit at Omaha.

Mrs. Frank Higgins, who has been in charge of the Los Angeles county exhibit at the Omaha Exposition all summer, writes an interesting letter on the effect of President's day on the exhibit from this county, as follows:

"While the President did not visit the Los Angeles county exhibit in person, his coming brought into the exhibit a crowd comparable with none but that of the great Chicago day at the World's Fair. In the exhibit was one great jam from early morning until night.

All attendants were kept busy entertaining the guests and presenting each with an olive branch as a peace offering. So pleased were all with the appropriateness of the offering, so glad were they to wear it, and so many thousands were given away that by the middle of the afternoon one-fifth of the 100,000 guests were wearing olive branches. The President introduced the style, for he and his associates were presented with the branches in the early morning, and hence were decorated with them when first presented to the public. Every hour since has brought to the Los Angeles county exhibit a request for olive branches.

The crowd of the President's day completed the much-coveted $2,000,000 mark of gate receipts, and now the exposition's financial success is a pronounced success. Before this surging crowd, Los Angeles literature melted away like paper before a swift fire.

"The greatest preparations of the season were made for the President. All trees, avenues and walkways of the Elbert tract were literally ablaze with thousands of incandescent light strings of them were suspended from the tall band and to the tops of other buildings, and above the flash of the head and shoulders of the head of the nation in incandescent lamps. It was a most remarkable piece of electric lighting, equaled only by the wonderful electrical parade that greeted the President on his arrival here.

"Among the few special things the President had time to visit was the Indian camp, where the government displays every tribe of the nation. All were anxiously waiting to see the Great Father, and as he passed among them the spectacle became dramatic.

"While the Ak-Sar-Ben parade, the one which greeted the President, was a marvelous undertaking, it surpassed the fiesta floats only in electric lighting. Here the floats follow the trolley, and are lighted in a most elaborate way.

"The Los Angeles county great register, holding 75,000 names, is closed, greatly to the distress of many visitors who have called since to enroll their names.

"The jury of awards was completed Saturday. The jury will begin Monday. The jury is composed of some of the best experts of the United States. Special pains was taken in its selection by the administration."

(RAILROAD RECORD.)

WHAT THEY THINK.

Railroad Men on the Valley Road Deal—Circus Rates.

There is a general disposition in railroad circles to credit the report wired from New York that the Santa Fe has secured control of the Valley road. One Santa Fe official in discussing the subject said it had always been the impression among railroad men that Claus Spreckels had undertaken the enterprise on behalf of the Santa Fe and that the roads would be consolidated at the proper time. This authority also thinks that no road will be constructed over the Tuleen Pass, but that truckage will be secured from the Southern Pacific.

It is pointed out that the Southern Pacific will soon finish its Coast line and that most of the passenger traffic will go over that route, relieving the Tehachapi line of anything like too much business. The competition is as positive under one arrangement as the other.

The organization of the Bakersfield and Los Angeles Railroad Company, and the steps taken toward building that road, are thus pushed into the realm of mystery by this theory. Both the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe have agreed to make a one-and-one-third rate to the Wallace circus, to apply to the territory contiguous to all points where a show is given.

The advertising car of the circus company came into the city yesterday. Yesterday W. G. Nevin and A. G. Wells of the Santa Fe went to Albuquerque, where they will meet President Ripley and accompany him to the Coast.

Malone Joyce, traveling passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, is here from San Francisco.

COLLIDED IN THE DARK.

Wallace Tells Why and How He Hit Williams.

W. J. Wallace explained to Justice Owens yesterday how he came to batter W. T. Williams, a young man who was an entire stranger to him, and who hadn't offered him any affront whatever.

Williams was first called upon to tell what he knew about the affair. He said that he was walking along the north side of Third street, smoking a cigar, on his way home from work, about 10 o'clock in the evening. His attention was attracted by some sort of a commotion on the opposite side of the street, and he was looking in that direction to see what the trouble was when a boy darted across the street directly toward him. The boy was followed by a man, who rushed at him, and struck him a blow in the face that knocked him down. As he gathered himself up, he saw a woman struggling with the man who had struck him, and the man twice flung the woman away with great violence. While Williams was picking up his hat and the woman hunting for her eye-glasses, a policeman came up and marched his assailant to the Police Station. Williams followed, and had his injuries attended to in the Receiving Hospital. He knew absolutely no motive for the unexpected assault; he had never seen his assailant before, and not a word had passed between them.

Officer Richardson testified that he saw Wallace rush at Williams and strike him a vicious blow that knocked him down. He saw Williams get up and start to run away, at the same time calling "police." Richardson then placed Wallace under arrest.

A young man named Leon Doseh testified that his little brother refused to go to night school, so he called Mr. Wallace, the father of the family, to try his persuasion. The boy started to run away, and Wallace ran after him. A collision with Mr. Williams followed, but young Doseh saw no blows struck.

Wallace, in his own behalf, testified that the little Doseh boy, in whom he took an interest, for reasons he did not think it necessary to explain to the court, started to run away when he was urging him to go to night school. He had no recollection of striking him with his fist, but in the excitement of the moment he might unwittingly have thrown out his arms and landed a blow on Williams' jaw. He regretted that he had hurt Williams, against whom he had no malice whatever. He could prove further mitigating circumstances by dragging ladies into court to give testimony, but he preferred to undertake the fight and throw himself on the mercy of the court.

The court showed his leniency by fining Wallace $20, which he paid without a murmur.
